The notary who receives such deed is to record in the deed a written declaration by the person acquiring the property that this is the first immovable property acquired inter vivos by him and the notary also has the duty to warn the said person of the importance of the truthfulness of such declaration.

This benefit does not apply where a notice of a promise of sale or transfer relating to such property has been given to the Commissioner before the 1st July 2013.

Together with the notice to the Commissioner in terms of Article 51 of the DDTA, legal evidence is to be submitted showing that no other immovable property had been acquired inter vivos before. The said form is to be submitted to the Commissioner on or before the 28th February 2024.

The first-time buyers' exemption applies on a pro rata basis according to the share of the property being acquired.

In respect of transfers of property made on or after the 9th June 2020, for the purpose of determining whether the property is the first immovable property being acquired inter vivos by the transferee, the previous acquisition by such person of an undivided share of immovable property representing less than twenty-five per cent (25%) of the real value of the whole of such property, shall not be taken into account (Legal Notice 240 of 2020). Furthermore, in respect of transfers of property made on or after 9th June 2020, for the purpose of determining whether the property is the first immovable property acquired inter vivos by such person, the previous acquisition by such person of a garage of not more than thirty (30) square meters, shall not be taken into account (Legal Notice 277 of 2021).
